Social Distance, Haiku, and You
Sound Collage Public Collaboration with Alan Nakagawa

Haikus and corresponding authors, in order of occurrence in sound collage

Part A: page 1
Part B: page 5
Part C: page 9
Part D: page 12
Part E: page 16
Part F: page 20
Part G: page 23
Part H: page 28
Part I: page 31
Part J: page 35 (text only)

Released on Thursday, April 23, 2020

Commissioned by the Orange County Museum of Art Flu hit me
Novel news on TV now Sensurround!

-Teresa
(read by Alan Nakagawa)

How should I labor?
When home and work become one all I have is time.

-Beth Stone

Melancholy Me
Embraced Through the Silences Simple, Unpretentious

-Rory Sloan

We are connected
A man gets sick in China
The falls to knees

-Kathy Benson

still shelter in place fifth floor apartment at sea stem tides of contact

-Andrew Thompson

Shopping Trader Joe’s Patiently he waits, swoops in After I move on

-Richard Utter

the dish pile grows high we eat every meal at home the dogs are happy

-Yasmin Ono

The trails are empty
Like the many shelves at Vons
Where am I more scared?

-Melissa King

wanting to hold you silence rings a fire bell wind is not enough

-Roger Gilroy

Warmth in solitude
Pause, feel, deep within the heart
All that we have missed

-Weng-San Sit

When you’re fearing men,
Find a shovel and dig soil,
Plants make for nice friends.

-Aramazt Kalayjian

Woke up at midnight Love the day after the rain Teddy bear by my side

-Zhongjin Wang

Fear, oh mighty fear driver outrageous actions Impulsive leader…..

--Joy Neri

It invades unseen.
Microscopic militia.
We extend distance.

-Jay

Can the bumblebee feel quarantined inside the flower petal's bloom?

-Tommy

invisible … old ... now ninja !!! WHOOSH !!! now noticed — grey beard wrapped in black —

- CorradoGong

Festive ambiance
She does not reveal her wish Quarantine birthday

-Veronica Hosking

Lots of people dead
A virus from a dumb bat
No clue what to do

-Archer Anderson
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART A

Sixty six years old
Could be the one to succumb Scary times, spread love

-In California
Sheltered in place: my Kingdom
For a bicycle!

-Lesley Brander

Spring still blossoms
Without witness
Quarantine

-Social distancing
The telemarketer’s call
An arm’s length away

-C. J. Korisky

Six feet between us,
Sharing in one common goal.
Apart, yet a part

-Bill Withers’ breath
Parrots take the lead, sing on This April morning

-Cathy Malkemus

String piecing face masks:
Prevention beats pandemic;
Control what I can.

-The news said stay home
We are stuck, not stuck, here where
The cherry tree blooms

-Alanenna Nelson

Sunny Masters week
A human, virus racing
the Easter Bunny

-Fingers clack keyboards,
eyes glued to computer screens.
Studentless school desks.

-Rob Preiditsch

Please be safe, stay home!
Then we can all be heroes.....
For more than one day!

-Window glass reflects
Lavender blossoms below
Out of reach and touch

-Paul Malkemus

remember the song?
eat a lot of peaches
summer will come soon

-My Christmas cactus
Confused, blooms red again in March
Consoling with beauty.

-Ashing Roahen

Self-isolated
Endless lines for groceries
Stay safe stay healthy

-Miss you lots right now
Wish covid was over soon
Let’s Houseparty please?

-Krysta Anders

Stay home for own good
So quit your bitching right now Haiku is answer

-Rita Nakashima Brock

In California
Sheltered in place: my Kingdom
For a bicycle!

-Jack J. Chen

Social distancing
The telemarketer’s call
An arm’s length away

-Michael Henry Lee

Bill Withers’ breath
Parrots take the lead, sing on
This April morning

-Max Geldman

The news said stay home
We are stuck, not stuck, here where
The cherry tree blooms

-Sara Roahen

Window glass reflects
Lavender blossoms below
Out of reach and touch

-Matthew Sample and Callen Wolf

Fingers clack keyboards,
eyes glued to computer screens.
Studentless school desks.

-James Woods Marshall

-My Christmas cactus
Confused, blooms red again in March
Consoling with beauty.

-Rita Nakashima Brock

Miss you lots right now
Wish covid was over soon
Let’s Houseparty please?

-Steven Princenthal
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART A

Sun streams through the trees
I watch the birds on the feeder A hawk circles near

- Constance Hodder privileged distance unearthing depths of my soul a forced oasis

-Katerina Jeng

My home keeps shrinking—boxes, for what were once rooms.
I long to breathe, free.

-by Sandra So Hee Chi Kim

Almost a doctor June Fifteenth Twenty Twenty Death is possible

-Chelsea Nagayama

coronavirus ...
a scattering of petals on the schoolyard steps

-Brendon Kent

Productivity
Time’s warping is welcome though Involuntary

-Letitia Fernandez Ivins

Play Chinese checkers Walkers weave and jump spaces Marbles in the groove

-Kathleen Weflen

an indolent spring islands of isolation dahlias stooped with grief

-Megha Sood

First day of spring, oh, what did you bring to warm our frightful, frozen souls?

-Greggory Moore

the space between us in the grocery aisles every face masked

-Leslie Rose

We are very scared.
We miss our friends very much.
We love everyone

-Charles Sexson

bubbling springs singing painted desert frozen trees viral pursuit home

-Colleen Loomis

Outside there’s still joy:
drag queen flowers in the trees purple up the air.

-Tony Barnstone

The trails are all closed Nature trails, chemtrails, and The trail to my heart

-Adriana Yugovich

Sunshine warms the ground Trees dance outside my window
I dance by myself

-Ann Tracy

I just turned 18
Video chatted with friends Senior year is sad

-Claudia Kiso

The sense of lonely
More than aloneness lingers Here – everywhere

-Terry Berkowitz

This world now on hold Perhaps good will come from it Imposed reflection

-Stacey Blaschke
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART A

We all took notice
Such strong powers you possess!
Now, leave us alone!

- Jeanne Kumagai

Waiting for old days Spreading like wine through white sheets Lost my job today

- Xuan Tran

No traffic No planes Distant laughter drifts over the canyon Only birdsong now

- Mark Romanek

Fragrance of citrus Blossoming around the yard
We don’t venture out

- Elon Schoenholz

Oh caterpillar
It’s only humans at risk
No need to worry

- Claude Hutcheson

at the marketplace
long lines of grocery carts
snake past empty shelves

- Wendy Toth Notarnicola

I am 6 feet from insanity, but I still have TP and wine

- Malika Middlebrooks

FaceTime with old friends.
Feels good to catch up and laugh.
We can still touch base.

- Michael Rippens

Hug again, but when?
Touch me not, I’ll fall apart.
Longing in my heart.

- Marci Thurmond

Isolation blues missing the vast ocean waves—memories remain.

- Rita Cummings

Once ubiquitous Freight trains are scarce now Or empty of freight

- Celia Bland

In this pandemic we all are safer at home
We heal and we grow

- Celeste Reynoso

Risking their lives to save others no protection fearless fight till won

- Tish Lampert

Stuck inside all day
Getting on each other’s nerves Going stir crazy

- Katryn Dougherty

Clear air now crackles Soft breezes now thrum with dread Each breath now a hope

- Sean Quintal

New job, life apart.
For months: calls, short trips. I’m here!
Virus too! We’re home.

- Kristin Loomis

We stay inside now Outside light comes in to us
We shine as before

- Miles Beller
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART B

Spring still blossoms
Without witness
Quarantine

-S. J. Korisky

Six feet between us,
Sharing in one common goal.
Apart, yet a part

-Cathy Malkemus

Self Isolated
Endless lines for groceries
Stay safe stay healthy

-Krysta Anders

remember the song?
tea a lot of peaches
summer will come soon

-Anna Rose Canzano

Please be safe, stay home!
Then we can all be heroes.....
For more than one day!

-Paul Malkemus

My small morning world Expands with rambling birdsong
I borrow their wings

-Lilli Cooper

Hi, Distant Friend. It’s CoronApocalypse Time; Hope You Like Yourself.

-Stephanie Sanditz

go getter spirit
That’s what I love about you I’m your nurse in awe

-Jeanette Bouvet

cooking teaching child care cooking teaching childcare Cooking teaching child

-Lisa Sanditz

Pavement soundless pales Invisible enemy Creeping empty beds

-MeiMei Liu

Quarantine writing
Poetry noon and night Outside pouring rain

-Mike Sonksen

Reeking of Clorox
I become unclean again Return to the sink

-Sarah Gomez

senior shopping hour some sad Halloween parade brave shabby surgeons

-Ann Elliott Sherman

The telephone rings
Put on my mask to answer
I’m losing my mind

-Beverly Hritz

Sunny Masters week
A human, virus racing
the Easter Bunny

-Rob Preiditsch

A humming fridge and A wall heater make sad company
In isolation

© 2020 Mary Alexandra Stiefvater

Washing my hands raw Cat VideoFestTv
no need to explain

-Cheryl Towers

yellow bananas grow black spots like cheetah fur time to bake some bread

-Sandra Payne
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART B

I trepidacious
Enter the grocery store
Please coconut milk

Confinement's OK
Perfecting sitting around.
Must watch more Simpsons

-Mallory Catlett

Twenty Twenty sucks.
Social distancing ordered.
Stuck inside and bored.

Coronavirus
Has me thinking about life
More than death today.

-Gordon M. Moore

All are affected.
Different experiences.
Viral dissonance.

at the marketplace
long lines of grocery carts
snake past empty shelves

-staci b

Always stuck inside Washing our hands constantly Nothing but hope left

Corona bottle
glows in a dark bar, last call!
Corona virus

-Emma Kelly

an outbreak; heartbreak Pandemic pedagogy learn at a distance

My IPhone has learned
Not to auto-correct "Zoom"
"Clorox" or "Cuomo"

-Lauren Hermann

at the marketplace
long lines of grocery carts
snake past empty shelves

-Nancy Drew

Away from my friends
Can’t go to the beach right now
I get to sleep in

-Stephan DiLauro

Blue sky in April
Quiet and comfortable
Waiting for sunset

A new midnight sun
From my laptop screen
Glaring with COVID newsfeed.

-Stephen DiLauro

beauty and heroes kindness, banging pots and pans be greater than fear

Away from my friends
Can’t go to the beach right now
I get to sleep in

-Melanie Friedman

Big brown eyes beg me
What happened to our rambles
Lockdown with two dogs

-Keo Marshall

Carefree dance above
Shades of soft innocence pink Solitary view

a stroke of my hand requires no social distance against her green veins

-Linda Yamada

Confinement’s OK
Perfecting sitting around.
Must watch more Simpsons

-Ted Sanditz

Coronavirus
Has me thinking about life
More than death today.

-James

Corona bottle
glows in a dark bar, last call!
Corona virus

-Nancy Drew

My IPhone has learned
Not to auto-correct "Zoom"
"Clorox" or "Cuomo"

-Stephen DiLauro

Away from my friends
Can’t go to the beach right now
I get to sleep in

-Barbara Becker

Blue sky in April
Quiet and comfortable
Waiting for sunset

A new midnight sun
From my laptop screen
Glaring with COVID newsfeed.

-Jonathan van Harmelen

Big brown eyes beg me
What happened to our rambles
Lockdown with two dogs

-Kay Marshall

Carefree dance above
Shades of soft innocence pink
Solitary view

a stroke of my hand
requires no social distance
against her green veins

-Jessica Rath
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART B

CoronaVirus
Cover Your Mouth When You Sneeze!
Stay away from me.

-Gordon M. Moore

Heartbroken world mourns
Loss of who we were before Waiting for new life

-Margaret Simon

Bound safe in comfort Reluctant to host what lurks
A blessing a curse

-Bill Gasper

hospital hallway a useless smile behind my mask

-Michael Morell

Covering my face Buying limit one TP
This blue bandana

-T.M.

I am fortunate
Have health, family, friends, food, work While others do not.

-Eileen Cunningham

Covid nineteen sucks Anxiety, sickness, death
Together we fight

-Judith Molina

It moves silently Seek sanctuary within Still--the flowers bloom

-Melissa Laussmann

COVID-19 call—each of us masked, on speaker and 6 feet from phone

-Alan Bern

Lost all engagements, Creating beauty from home:
Resident Artist.

-Tami Swartz

Dreams of sharing meals
Woke up to dull thoughts of doom Hoping for touch... warmth

-Emily Hopkins

Long calls, vibrant chats, Friends, families, catching up—Closer—but not quite.

-Rebekah C. Mambiar

East Carolina
Graduation is cancelled
COVID-19 sucks

-Heather Atkins

Melancholy home
Lack of stir dispiriting
Why the rain right now

-Alexis Desselkoen

Eyes above the folds, he's distant but still social.
You can't mask a smile.

-Michael Nowicki

Nature has designed microscopic messengers to rescue herself.

-Val Zavala

global pandemic
yet the birds sing joyfully -- two realities

-Thomas Deslypper-Hamon

On this rainy day
I forget that staying home is mandatory.

-Sarah Cunningham
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART B

Numbers, in the glass Russian Resurrection is New news, like cold rain.

-James Klopfleisch

Once unfettered heart compressed in wind-waves of dread-sea limpet clinging.

-Kim Scheiblauer

String piecing face masks:
Prevention beats pandemic;
Control what I can.

-Alanna Nelson
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

This rustling space sells itself as silence, sitting in my pen's window.

- Benedicte Kusendila

A confusing time
When you have a newborn and Fight a pandemic

- Rowena Winkler

A life in stillness How's quarantine treating you? Are you doing good?

- Gilbert B. Battung (read by Ziying Duan)

A red-tailed hawk calls from a social distance, then the forest responds

- Jessica R. Kratz

A silence inside While out, the birds are raucous Singing eulogies

- Jonathan Shipley

A virus occurs the world is in danger a hero stays home

- Brian K. Saxby (read by Ziying Duan)

Alone, I live mute Unsure if my voice still works Testing one, two, three

- Tricia

Are you able to Hear me from behind this mask Voices carry weight

- Alexa Coblentz

Ay La Llorona Today the dreadful 'rona' Together, alone.

- Alessandra Moctezuma

Covered nose and mouth Bright eyes meet a gentle nod Give a hidden smile

- Kathleen Atkins (read by Ziying Duan)

Busy just stopped today I fret, but I could create Time can be scary

- Sonja Krastman

Coronavirus Scary, worldwide pandemic Must shelter in place

- Debby Olsen

Coronavirus Demanding separation You brought us closer

- James Bowden

the garden lilies welcome delight at this time worry can wait now

- Susan Charles (read by Jamie Larkin)

Drizzled dejeuner cold Sneezing cashier spirit waits A Muffled red-faced soul

- Joe Lewis

hushed downtown street rainfall plays tinkling etude on storm drain's dark pool

- Mac Everett

The virus is here Folks ask why now not later? Pandemic lives on

- Mark Wagner
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART C

Cannot go to school Horrible mad frustrated Boring not happy

-Henry Hemann

Industry halted
Mother Earth takes revenge
Time for Spring cleaning

-Meriel Stern

does sky yearn for smog? no cars spew to flawless beach freed from storm-drain’s lost

-Kim Abeles

Go downstairs, coffee
Go upstairs and back to work Zoom is hacked again

-Julie Beckmann

Gazing at the sky
I cherish the smallest sparks
And watch the silence

-Alexandra Bertilsson

Fraught from global grief My mood’s lifted by music and watching Schitt’s Creek

-Lauren Molina

Flower store close But flower still blooming Like we still breathing

-Huiying Ho

Even the kangaroos respect the long reach of each other’s shadows

-Anthony Lawrence

Homeschool is not fun
Parents are bad at school work
I wish I could play

-Edison Hemann

Like fog, fear creeps in “You can never dance too much”
Devotion saves lives

-Stacey

Silence stills, dressing
The weathered old window sill In sunshine and dust.

-Micah McCormick
(read by Jamie Larkin)

People cheer and clap
To the doctors and nurses
Thank you for caring!

-Marie Le Goff

people must connect virtual meetings: no good human contact: key

-Diane Kew

Now we lose our jobs
And learn how poverty kills
What a harsh trade off

-Michael Farr

Red and blue, white too Hoard groceries and guns but Can't mask the problem

-Giles Troughton
(read by Jamie Larkin)

Running, from others?
Or myself. Inhibition of inner distance.

-Carl Hansen

Social order twist.
Isolate or intimate,
I’m missing the hugs.

-Warwick Willcoxson sloshing
a river turtle slithers from a crowded log -Sandi Pray

the silent killer always ready to migrate to a new war zone
-Gopal Lahiri

Still doing laundry
Here at the end of the world (shrug) Ran out of briefs
-Anthony Serpette

soloists guided by shared frets exploding across scarred space
-Teresa Layden

sounds of silence so many, so fleetingly and just one virus
-Jean Wattenberge

springtime mothers mourn the absence of infield dust on kids’ baseball pants
-Stacey Murphy

Your beautiful smile
Is hidden behind that mask?
Try twinkling your eyes.
-Linda Saldana

We pick out fabrics:
Whimsical? Classy? Witty?
Face mask personas
-Sonja Reid

Strapped in my seat, I pray for a Sully to land us on the Hudson
-Chris Fitzpatrick
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART D

Stay inside people
The Rona has gone viral It’s not safe outside

- Ian Jin Lee

Day begins in bed
Every day is the same thing
No energy here

- Emily Jaudes

A calm, gentle breeze
I stare out on to the coast Summer feels distant

-Kanjana Mathongsa

Doctors are tweeting
About watches still ticking On dead patients’ wrists.

-Shannon Fletcher

about corona we read and read all day long vaccine soon, we hope

-Kris Kuramitsu

done with the tik toks wait I gotta get on zoom insta is boring

-Kari Belle King

Adrift in the sea of uncertainty without my trusty paddle

-Trudy Zoepfel-Thuline

Family all home.
Laughter and games, but no space.
Is this good or bad?

-Lexie Woodman

Aging without fear Sky trees pink moons and puppies
Now all souls seek grace

-M.K. Hamilton

fat chicken lays egg at sunrise, we eat the eggs during quarantine

-Finley Nichols

alone through a screen the world spirals loss and fear please keep your hands clean

-Sabine Holler

Got to be healthy Stay at home where it’s germ free Go away from me

-Lucas Wang

Church bells ring alone while Italian ambulances wail away.

-Veronica Scharf Garcia

green and yellow waves grey wind, stare drip drip swoosh drip clock in, click, repeat

-Michael Manalo

COBOL resurrection
Bugs gnawing ancient software Old is new again

-Adrienne Bell

home isolation how to know myself again soul freedom, mind clean

-Rebecka Maine

Coronavirus
The world helping each other
We will survive this

-Vicki Hada

Home, where the heart is So too the lungs, whole bodies Slow, to protect them

-C.A.M. Rooker
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART D

I am not raging!
Calmly I wait for my still tamales to dream

-Ace Cuevas

I am so lucky
That I can be safe at home
Tricking Miss Rona

-Rosanne

I am terrified.
I just want to go outside without masks and fear.

-Nikita Thummala

I can manage but these sixteen syllables in a pandemic

-Teri Rife

I've been quarantined
Since this virus swept The States
I long to hold you

-Michael Raver

If Summer happens,
And no one’s there to hear it...
...will it make a sound?

-Cherie Lee

isolation frayed—droplet chaos lungs respire jet stream’s viral wheeze

-Gary Denk

It's very quiet now Spring rain washes over us Life is more precious

-Jeffrey Arlt

Lady stood too close
I must not smell your perfume
It’s not just the flu

-Simon Daley

leave them all outside!
soap and spray and wash them next deadly groceries

-Lisa Amico Kristel

Melt into the bed
Spread me like butter on toast
But we're out of bread

-Elisa Hough

Stretch toilet paper taut like a rubber band, one roll survives three weeks.

-Erin Schalk

pandemic a cloud in the shape of a stingray

-Meik Blöttenberger

Quarantine not fun
I don’t like staying at home
I like school better

-Nolan Wang

Quarantined apart Lover does not understand shadows in my heart

-Natalie Egnatchik

Regeneration
Healthy soil will heal the Earth Will heal the people

-Roxanne Nigg

Restlessly waiting Unfamiliar times ahead Hope still lingers now

-Bella Michel Diaz

scattered stepping stones we give new shape to distance in grocery aisles

-Julia Naslund
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART D

Selfless heroes stand Alone is strength in numbers Sacrifice for all

-Meri Jean Maruyama

Eating my feelings

-Sunrise and Sunset
Life continues onto ends Sunset and Sunrise

-Sean Yoo

Sharing old stories
Waiting to create new ones Locked down together

-Laurence Sullivan

Take this rock, my glance
Turned upside down by our world
This long, absent spring

-Hikmet Sidney Loe

Sing twenty seconds
Your fav: Prince, Bowie, Janelle Red, chapped, clean hands

-Alicia Vogl Saenz

The new normal is Clearer skies, diminished stress Love expressed at last

-Savannah Salazar

Social distancing -
Jangling key chain at my waist Cries "leper! leper!"

-Marie Cox

Take this rock, my glance
Turned upside down by our world
This long, absent spring

-Hikmet Sidney Loe

Sound moves energy
Opening up your heart with joy
Work to release it

-Susan Shankin

The unknown we are confronting Understanding is stressful
This pandemic is turning us to the meaning of life

-Carmen Vargas

Spinning lungs and brain Orange hell but not the sun Nest of nastiness

-William R. Fouts

The world never looked so beautiful as it does when it’s forbidden.

-Scott Brown

Spring outside window
We are waiting like Godot
We are not alone

-Beth Pfuntner

Under the mask a Sauna is born, heated and Alive and free

-Julie Leah

Staying here at home,
Nobody out playing,
Staying here at home

-Ella Buckley

Under the window, is my table and orchid, useful and trying.

-Samantha Alsina

Stuck at home inside Pox on you COVID Nineteen Going back to bed

-Isabel Belen

Watch the world, my friend.
We are all on the same boat.
We need each other.

-Roberta Orlando

Stuck inside all-day
Facetiming friends, not as fun
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART D

We have chicken day on chicken day you lay eggs
You are a chicken

-Declan Nichols

Will I wash the sheets we shared before only to lose the scent of you?

-John H. Maher

You struggle inside,
First world is not the whole world,
Your spring break can wait.

-Santos Nunez

We can only travel
During coronavirus
With Dodo Airlines

-Sophie Buckley

Zoom, Skype or FaceTime
I choose Animal Crossing
Those are my real friends

-Angie Chau
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART E

Alone with flowers
I finally understand what a still life is

-Heido Aho

Hope clears our worries
Despite constant feel of fear
Together we fight

-Samantha Foist

Already far here
My people pop in pixels Text cannot be touch

-Claire Bourke

Have not been outside
I want to go on a walk
But not wear a mask

-Caila Feist

As she builds her nest Phoebe teaches mother craft Distantly—through glass

-Amy Nicholson

greeting with our feet by changing Society
social distancing

-Shamar Gordon corona in between bare branches evening sun

-Adele Weers

Got Covidly ill, Married for 51 years, Holding hands- they die.

-Delphi Alvarado

better than Netflix kittens on YouTube lockdown NYC

-Patricia Carragon

Too many Thin Mints!

-Sharon Jacobs

Coronavirus
travels through the empty streets confused

-Stephanie Cupido

Coronavirus
Now, home together always And six feet apart

-Katy Hugo-Holman

Expand your day now Stress charming innovation Speak grateful at home

-Martha Clark Scala

It's more than a month the last time I hugged a friend
My cat gets lots now

-Veronica Esposito

Daddy told stories
We laughed. He cried. Everyone’s Father. He touched us.

-Cari Lyn Stanton

COVID-19 death
Blue body, tearful intern Senior doctor coughs

-Richard M. Berlin

I could not go on then I drank filtered water and laundered fresh clothes

-joseph of windows to sky
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

I desire your touch
No peace in isolation
The days grow longer

-I desire your touch
No peace in isolation
The days grow longer
-Tom Clancey

I hate this damn mask.
…I save the world with this mask.
…I love this damn mask.

-I hate this damn mask.
…I save the world with this mask.
…I love this damn mask.
-Mark Carrier

I hear Sting singing:
please don’t stand so close to me always liked that song

-I hear Sting singing:
please don’t stand so close to me
always liked that song
-Ann Reed

I hear you are dead mostly black and blue "I can’t breathe"
matters of life and death

-I hear you are dead
mostly black and blue "I can’t breathe"
matters of life and death
-Tam Ampomah

I like this timing
Now we can see plants move too
Slowness is s gift

-I like this timing
Now we can see plants move too
Slowness is s gift
-Adrienne Adar

I miss normal life
But this way will do for now
But my dog is glad

-I miss normal life
But this way will do for now
But my dog is glad
-Jadan Umholtz

I want to go out
I always miss my best friends
Soon it’ll be over

-I want to go out
I always miss my best friends
Soon it’ll be over
-Nadiyah Henderson

Just me and my cat
Where are you? Phew, there you are Drama for the day

-Just me and my cat
Where are you? Phew, there you are Drama for the day
-Ken Marchionno

Prep, Tape, Zoom, repeat ...
Teaching across The Abyss,
The COVID Classroom.

-Prep, Tape, Zoom, repeat ...
Teaching across The Abyss,
The COVID Classroom.
-Jeannie Breen

Poor avocado
Left out too long to ripen.
A quarantine crime.

-Poor avocado
Left out too long to ripen.
A quarantine crime.
-Laura Lipson

Pandemic kills many Unkosher meat, cleaner air
Care for man, beast, Earth

-Pandemic kills many
Unkosher meat, cleaner air
Care for man, beast, Earth
-Christina Zlotnick

Our minds separate us more than a fog of alien viruses

-Our minds separate
us more than a fog of alien viruses
-Angel Tolomei

Nature has designed microscopic messengers to rescue herself.

-Nature has designed microscopic messengers to rescue herself.
-Val Zavala

Mother Nature warns
Remember what is sacred
Human, Health and Earth

-Mother Nature warns
Remember what is sacred
Human, Health and Earth
-Linda Josephs

Mask over my face
My eyes try to meet others
No one sees my smile

-Mask over my face
My eyes try to meet others
No one sees my smile
-Barbara Osborn

Looking through windows
Birds go on building small nests
In time we will too

-Looking through windows
Birds go on building small nests
In time we will too
-Laub

Locked away closeness
Background lost quiet planet
Loud politicians

-Locked away closeness
Background lost quiet planet
Loud politicians
-Lynn Sindoni

PROPORTION doesn’t matter
We need each other TO GRIEVE
Haikus WENT LIMP

-PROPORTION doesn’t matter
We need each other TO GRIEVE
Haikus WENT LIMP
-Maria Giraldo
Quarantine today
I open the window wide Let the bird song in

-Marcia Gutiérrez

We practice Tai Chi
One parking place per person Ancient sequence calms

-Susan Twiggs

sad, walking alone
no one else around. just me.
sickness hurts us all.

-Annabelle Mauger

View from my window Sharp blue colossal skies that Desolate and curve

-Jo Metivier

Seder via Zoom Passover Hollywood Squares! virtual blessings

-Anna Reed

vernal pools of light—she embroiders a haiku on her home-sewn mask

-Astrid Egger

Social butterfly
Out and about loving life
Now a housebound slug

-Terri Goldstein

There is a lighthouse
In my quiet heart and home
That no storm can touch.

-Annika Sampson

Stay in the house now or else disease will kill us COVID is scary

-Aylana Golaub

The silent blue skies
I think of this place and when We will have tacos

-Aimee Williams and Chris Torres

Stretch toilet paper
taut like a rubber band, one
roll survives three weeks.

-erin Schalk

The earth from above.
No lines or labels, We are In this together.

-Don Do

While I am confined starlings strip away siding And nest in the eaves

-Vicki Stelma

tending home with love
as if guests arriving soon - but just birds and blooms

-Lorrie Tom

such a small creature wreaking havoc world over it’s size matters not

-Candace Metzger

Zoom meeting at one, Another at 2, and 3, Connections bad! I....

-Elizabeth Wadell
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART E

With COVID-19 virus pandemic, our Saturday night gatherings were greatly appreciated. Now, it’s time -- unite, pray.

-Nancy Min

Willet by water
Peeps and plovers at low tide
I am not alone

-Anh Phuong Tran

Wine is running out
But we are only half way Sobriety looms

-Leanne Feris
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART F

A fairytale walk, spurs her youthful dreams beyond what she would have thought

-Daisy Triggs

I just want a hug
You can’t hug six feet apart
That makes me so sad

-Annah Shaheen

A finch yanks his mate
Under a white trembling sun Corpses quake deaf ground

-Lila Diaboha

I miss you, Lover
An ocean is between us Stuck here by disease

-Sarah Barton Schlee

Between the first cough and the last gasp, symptoms spread,
sheltering in place

-Marianne Boretz

Keep your distance, please
But flash a wave or peace sign Connect with your heart.

-Elizabeth Sommers

Who are the heroes?
New perspective with new eyes Now, what matters most?

-Suzanne Lopez

Life in quarantine
Sleeping, eating, and working Each day feels the same

-Lucas Garcia

Breathe the blossoming
Of the Earth unencumbered
By our existence

-E. Nathan Van Hala

Lotto tickets grasped, he exits market, mask on,
hoping for good odds.

-Holly Tempo

Busy birds flit fly Pussy willows bursting buds
I can only wait

-Miyashiro Jerelyn

Morning coffee first Conditioned machine drinking Regular morning

-Cindy Berg

Days are passing by Lonely social exclusion Stuck in Quarantine

-Ryan Kehler

One of the few times
I feel glad that mom and dad can only see from heaven

-Martha

Death is all around People are sick and lonely
But I am thriving

-Anastacia Mantoni

Questioning Distance
Coronividuals Arise
Choose the other side

-Brad Collins

Gratitude restores Thoughtfulness abounds here Slow down and listen

-Elizabeth Sommers
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART F

Slouched on my bedsheet Procrastinating a lot
The cycle repeats

-Amaan Shaikh

Stuck in these four walls Hours pass and I’m alone Is the end in sight?

-Daniya Beard

The stars misaligned.
Human endurance, a sign, only hope, to find.

-Nicole Dizon

Such peace and beauty Grateful for my distant friends
Our world is changing

-Emily Thiroux Threatt

Staying home for others Protecting other people Netflix and chilling

-Robert Fiedler

Sunlight like weak beer
Time like honey Unobserved azalias bloom

-Sophia Limacher

some ways are not done
forsythia blooms, birds nest
flies die on the sill

-Daniel Mack

The husband coughs in The other room. Don’t panic.
So much is in bloom.

-Carol Dorf

someone said, before this is over everyone will have lost someone

-Meryl Natchez

The walls are shrinking Anxiety chases me
When will it all end?

-Courtney McKelvey

Stay six feet away
No contact with any people
We need to stay in

-Rosie Schibig

the worry is more than the bravery some days but we carry on

-Kae Penner-Howell

Stay the hell away
Keep-a your hands in plain sight Suck that lollipop

-Dorothy Burns

This apocalypse.
All so surreal, including,
o no toilet paper.

-Elisa Narsu

Today wrote my will Planted seeds for a garden Prepare but hope

-anonymous

This is my goodbye
I wish I could be at school Even just once more

-Grace Dolan

We walk outside now
New neighbors show new faces
We can not be caged.
Unexpected Switch
In class but sitting alone
When will this all end?

- Courtney McKelvey, Alex, Elizabeth, and Angel

why’s there so much fear where did all the toilet paper go so much confusion

- John Grather

Virtual teaching
WiFi down. Cat on keyboard
I miss my students

- Tracie Michalski
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART G

Air born mind can’t breathe.
Pesticide madness don’t touch Protect your minds, Health

- Tiffany Santiago

All I do is Eat
Quarantine is kicking my butt
This is Annoying

- Halle Rae Lentine

Alone together
Outweighs the alternative Alone Forever

- Emet Baker

Alone with three kids Distant from the global bug
My Sanity Gone

- Asher Glynn

barely inhaling unable to take it in silently dying

- Sandra Stephens, quoting E.R.
  Doctor Helen Ouyang in the New York Times

Solitary walks.
All the passersby are mute -
Yet the birds still sing.

- E. L. Key

Blur my background please, to hide home office chaos.
Drat, my 'stache... exposed.

- Tracy Morgan

Dad fades from Covid 5 am New Jersey call my cells start to shift

- Olga Koumoundouros

Depressing indoors
Oh the outside I adore

Dreaming of the end

- Alisha Dennis

Doctors and nurses
Struggling to make it home
We just hope

- Tashanay Rodriguez

Earth’s viral weapon forcing us inside, alone hugging lethal now

- Karen Henry

Everyone panics invisible killer strikes normalcy is gone

- Grace Karch

Everyone’s at home
Stuck in quarantine, oh no Nothing to do here

- Claudia Kaminski

everything is not essential to survival let’s change our ways now

- Eve Payor

Expectations gone.
Every day a new loss and yet, flowers bloom.

- Lauren Rabindranath

Films of black and white,
Moving pictures fill my heart,
Sit and wait with time

- Idil Hermansen

friendly lockdowners - ever heard so much shouting from across the street

- Jane Berg
global pandemic —
the blossoms out my window open in prayer

-Jessica Renee Dawson

I miss family
Waving at my mom through glass Twenty-third birthday

Grandson through pictures
Our sick dying all alone
An ache in the heart

-Joe Pallen

I want to be social I just miss my family
When will we be free

Help us! Just stay home!
There in stillness, see the light.
Love means all of us.

-Debbie Maruyama

I’m at my wits end
It is getting so boring Society Paused

Can’t go to the store
There is nothing on the shelf
I need some food now

-Anna Dewey

Jow(e)ls in focus Floor siren face to face option. Mar gar et he.

-Becca Flohl

Looking through a globe, see just the red color flow, letting this pain grow

-Renata Petropoulos

Hit the ground running Watch grass grow, paint dry, pot boil Hope springs eternal

-Marta Ceja Mora

Mental health falters
I feel the pain grow inside
When will this be done

-Gerard Wozek

-Lucy Bowden

My soul is yellow Reaching for happiness yet finding none, Alone again

-I miss family
So many plans were cancelled Nothing left to do.

-Hope springs eternal

-Marta Ceja Mora

No hugs or touching
Of the people we love most Elders die alone

-Becca Flohl

-Becca Flohl

-Madeline Bilsak

-Julie Hilarion

-Matthew Atieh

-Renata Petropoulos

-Farol Seretean

-Lucy Bowden

-Brittany Barebo

-Leann

-Madeline Bilsak

-Julie Hilarion

-Matthew Atieh

-Renata Petropoulos

-Farol Seretean

-Lucy Bowden

-Brittany Barebo

-Leann
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART G

On rare drive today
I am stunned by glorious Poppies everywhere

-David Leland

Six feet distancing Staying home meditating Whispers in silence

One small simple act
How can it have such an impact
All acts have impact

-Caden Weinhouse

Social distancing:
while friendships become distant,
we must be safe, too.

President disappoints
We need more ventilators Tired of sleeping

-Brooke Nodoline

Spaces between words Luminous shimmer of scar
My child’s velvet hug

Quarantine is dumb,
I do not care, let it burn.
I need to leave now.

-Benjamin Myers

-Quarantine’s boring
I would rather be in school
I wish it was done.

-Leo Mulrine

Stand up, sit down, eat Quarantine is not for me Sit down, stand up, sleep

-Summer Medford

Redefining life
Growing out my eyebrows now
To reshape future

-Sara Dittrich

Stuck inside all day
Trying to stay positive Freedom coming soon

-Rock yearns to be tree Better to sway than keep still Can’t fucking do this

-Dorian Wood

-The circuit breaker Masks, gloves, 2 metre apart Free isolation

-Scouring online sites Snagging whatever’s in stock Creative cooking

-Dora Clepper

The skin of the world
Of course I am forgetting
I will be still now

-Sheltering in place,
running out of things to say - What do we do next?

-Sybil Mosely
the winds arrived here and reminded me of time
I do not now know.

-Ryan Weimar

Tiny beetle gleams.
New friend? I lean in. He flees:
Social distancing.

-Corri Lobezzo

Tired of crazy
Missing normal distractions Which now seem insane

-Veronica Ota

Toxicant cruise ships
Stay inside, hug only your screens Fear has gone viral

-Samantha Trayhurn

Trapped in Together
Unsafe of our big world’s fate
Be Considerate

-Andrew Tita

Up we must grow now, (singular living: over) quick as a crocus!

-Susa Silvermarie

Wash your hands now please Before the germs continue to spread more Stay home stay safe now

-Brielle Kiefer-N

Watch a virus change
A punk-rock cry composed by Pinkish summer clouds

-Nika Pfeifer

We open ourselves
To what will come next in life Be vulnerable

-Wearing my sweatpants Anxious about my schoolwork Want to go outside

-Arik Germanio

Weeks in quarantine Surviving by Netflix shows Missing celebrations

-Taryn O’Hearne

weeping every night perpetually tortured by love or despair

-Yoshie Sakai

What day is today?
What if this is forever?
I miss desmadre.

-Joan Zeta

What reality
Claptrap purveyors dither
The people prevail

-Robert Matthews

Where did the time go
All the unnecessary evil Where do we start now

-Patrick McGee

WHERE IS MY MIND AT WHERE’S IT AT, CAN NOT FIND IT MAYBE ITS LOST, SHIT

-Evan Bunce

Working from home:
challenging to say the least.
Adapting takes time.

-Debbie Plaia
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART G

Your pixel skin and static voice can't compare, but it'll have to do.

-Cat Tang
We are so lonely
Not only lonely, but bored
We need more people

-Holly Daubenspeck

Walking down the street
My dog craps on plastic grass
I wear a black mask

-Mark Soden

when I go outside agoraphobia strikes yet spring carries on

-Rebecca Saunders

The cases are worse
Deciding who lives and dies
Families are hurting

-Arianna Ducsai
(read by Christian Sbaraglia)

Being secluded,
But together we stand strong;
Quarantine prevails.

-Elizabeth Burnley

Words Muffled Through Masks
Cold Glass Separate Our Gaze Zoom For School Classes

Earl King
(read by Shimin Zheng)

Sleep, eat, rinse, repeat Quarantine day one million?
Time lost all meaning

-Ethan Collum
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

I waste all my time Idling around my house
I should work instead

-Jason Larkin
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

National curfews
Panic spreads throughout the world Must stay quarantine

-Jessica Ritter
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

Now we lose our jobs
And learn how poverty kills
What a harsh trade off

-Michael Farr

Stuck inside again
Boredom flowing like water
I’m losing my mind

-Chloe Bates
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

I feel stuck at home Alone, anxious, and afraid
I want my life back

-Kris White
(read by Christian Sbaraglia)

Social distancing
We’re all so close yet so far we all feel the pain

-Samantha Lick
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

Staying far apart
We rarely make eye contact But now we’re closer

-Sarah Eddy
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

Stuck inside again
Boredom flowing like water
I’m losing my mind

-Chloe Bates
(read by Sheryl Rubin)
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART H

sight beneath window concentrated surveillance
I remember friends

- anonymous
  (read by Shimin Zheng)

What is happening?
Memories of life before, consume the psyche!

-Britte Philipp

Cardinal chirping.
Scarlet bird, glittering eyes.
A glimmer of hope.

- Sofia Fitzpatrick
  (read by Sheryl Rubin)

Winter never came,
We cannot touch our faces, Hopefully spring comes,

-Colin Finkbiner

Waves hitting the beach
I cannot get back to shore.
Swim under and wait

-Hugh Milam

Wisteria blooms
At the back of the garden Shelter with us here

-Sharon Bliss

I feel lost in life
I don’t want to waste my time
But how to spend it?

-Trevor Klomps
  (read by Sheryl Rubin)

You, Social distance
Like Tiger mom, good intents But choking my neck

-Morgan Oh

Social distancing
My health depends on your health
We will persevere.

-Frances Onishi
  (read by Shimin Zheng)

Virus unloved, thief Stolen dreams and light fading Victorious Spring

-Cindy Lane
  (read by Shimin Zheng)

Under pink blossoms Spring air is fragrant and warm—smiles behind masks

-Kristi Helgeson

“We’ve got this people”
Have I piqued your interest?
Too bad! Its Fake News.

-Corey Levine

Winter’s snug retreat
With Spring became a prison.
Flowers are not snow.

-Catherine Barthel
  Read by Shimin Zheng

We’re separate now
But together we’re standing Through our mind and soul

-Aaron

Skies empty of color Minutes lost into whole days Forgotten, birds sing.

-S.M. Geer
  read by Shimin Zheng

Grocery shopping
The shelves are devoid of food Quarantine problems

-Ryan Koch
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART H

syllables ordered increase production by two reduced stock, sorry

-Daniel Rothman
read by Shimin Zheng
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART I

A collective breath
As we gather our senses
Yours mine theirs, now ours

- Tomisin Oluwole

A hummingbird
My mother’s last breath
Her coat a plum sky

- Pamela Gemme

All the days blending
The people that we let stay Life wakes up again

- Ariana Ortiz

All the flowers bloom
Bees buzz on the sunny day Everything is dead

- Vivian Nava

Among chaos lives, untold art, stories of grit unemployed wonder

- Alexandra Varkarotas

An unseen danger Suspension of physical touch
I just want a hug

- Dustin Wolkis

Anxiety rots
The mind and soul as if they Were placed in a cage

- Brandon Vasquez

asphyxiated
we lose our minds rights beliefs but never to life

- Kio Griffith

Balconies hold art Music home concerts abound Virtual dancing

- Rosangela Dardon

Binge tv all-day wish I could go out and play demand please go away

- Thomas Blair

birthday blues blowing out fires with my burning wish claps for being born

- Hop Nguyen

Blooming in sprinkle Peach blossom paint the world pink, bring me back to spring.

- Nicori Lu

Breathing, not counting While hearing more breaking news
In a quiet place

- Gracia Khouw

broke up the concrete ground became my body. Why were we both hollowed?

- Mallory Rukhsana

Cautioned not to leave
My privilege to stay home
I grieve for others

- Janelle McGlothlin

Confused graduates
Delaying celebrations Trying not to cry

- Marigny Goodyear

Cannot go work now
Cannot go play sports in Spring
Do your best please, all

- Muhammad Hamza

At-home collection
Mail-order vigilantes
#MeToo D.I.Y.

- Logan K. Young
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART I

COVID-19 sucks
Away our end of senior Year ceremonies.

-Chloe Holt

Frail man waits moonrise Youth dance in its pink shadow Risking death they breathe

-M. Rumsfeld

days passing at home no one could have predicted how far this would go

-Kate Jang

Fuori c’è il
Virus che corre forte;
Tra noi silenzio

-Elena Ardeni

Disneyland magic Open the economy
And Mar-a-Logolf grocery store has fifty brands of cereal instead of sixty

-Nancy K. Carpenter

- Joseph Tepperman

Don’t worry I’m scared
We are living in fear Let’s hope together

-Brittany Diaz

“Here!” I call to you “Look outside, it’s beautiful.”
The empty room echoes.

-Mara Lonner

Dreadfully long days
Senior year broken apart Zoom academy
Human quarantine
Animals reclaim their space
No face masks needed

-Kathleen Grady

-Debra Sherbina

Empty desks and chairs
Got me missing my students School without kids? Sucks.
I fear for my dad
In all possible risk groups Anxiety mounts

-D. Cho

- Francene Kaplan

Everyone detached
All sorts of chaos around Why can’t this just stop
I miss school a lot Quarantine has been boring Hopefully it will end soon

-Elijah Ayers-Davis

-Antoinette Boulos

Facebook Instagram
Is my motivation gone
I am late for zoom
I want to get out but I know it’s for the best the future unknown

-Jeanette Garcia

-Laura Rex

Foraging for food
We’re living off the land now
I mean, not really
I wash my clean hands
Over and over again Washing away fears

-Ken Burak

© 2020 Gary Fisher
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART I

I worry for you
We’ve never done this before I worry for us

- Ellen O’Brien

Masking while Asian May terrorize not protect I can’t hide my eyes

-Gordon Nakagawa

I’m six feet away
From everyone that I love
I hope this ends soon

-Alyssa Gerstenberg

Millions of masks shipped,
But no one has seen them here - Maybe they’re on Mars.

-Lenny Belasco

I’m stuck in my room
Everything is boring me
I just want to sleep

-Alexander Robertson

missing smiles and contact lonely heart cries out for love standing quiet still

-Mary Blacker

In uncertainty
We are stuck no way out of This fear knows no end

-Jackson Ortiz

More time to myself
But anxiety is high
I miss normal life

-Victoria Rosenthal

Invisible wind delivers life or death sentence.
Child fills bird feeder.

-Shana Barry

Mournful and morose.
Of later save me a piece.
Now: blue jay visit.

-Peter Vander Lux

It’s not a choice
Gambling: death or paycheck
You called me "unskilled"

-Leslie Yick

No cure. No vaccine.
Gird my home-made ‘Rona mask Namoamidab

-Kathleen Kumagai

Life happens again
Wonder how it all turns out But still the grass grows

-Doug Hurley

No shower today
Will that keep la rona away?
Just my family

-Karen Satzman

Life in quarantine
Waiting for this all to end
To see friends again

-Aubrey Gallagher

Oh, onsite landlord!
Where is thy sting? I am safe; Eviction ban. Ha!

-Anonymous

Lockdown seriously?
Me? In the house for a month.
Now, I’m a homie.

-C.K / N.C / E.C

One long, two short blasts declare the ship’s intent - port horn blasts its welcome.

-Cathy Cato
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART I

One weird vivid dream Hovers in my subconscious Stays with me all day

- Bernadette Colburn

I feel lost in life
I don’t want to waste my time
But how to spend it?

-Trevor Klomps
(read by Sheryl Rubin)

Over time, all the Steins changed their minds. First Gertrude, Albert then Ludwig.

-Sue Spaid

This old home remains while I dream of breaths captured by blooming lilacs.

-Brian Sonksen

People are frightened Becoming lonesome at home Don’t listen to news

-Dawson C. MacDonald

silence around me seeds grow in the soil - careless a warm sun shines high

-Laura Collica

Pixels give sore eyes Sitting on a chair as if Trapped in our cages

-L.C / K.L / E.I

Through this passing mess Masked soldiers shield us from death
They will heal our world.

-J.C / G.S / Y.C / R.K

Quarantine is fun
And it gets very boring
Like to watch squirrels

-Ellie Kemp

Toilet paper gone
Wiping our butts with headlines Cleaning passes time

-Jonathan Hetrich

Quarantine is weird.
I miss my friends and my family
But I feel relaxed.

-Gabriella Ebrahimi

True friendships are now Weighted in units of eggs
And toilet paper

-Monica Lee

Quick breaths of shy bliss Hidden within solitude Fastened behind masks

-Jes Knox

unprecedented times - you’re tuned to npr now for something news

-Carolyn Shayte

Quiet in reprieve
I would have thought this heaven
If not for the dread

-Donna Drake

The cases are worse
Deciding who lives and dies
Families are hurting

-Arianna Ducsai
(read by Christian Sbaraglia)
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART J

Corona virus... neighbor’s car won’t leave the house
-Alex

self-isolation brought upon us abruptly I don’t know what’s next
-Deema Aljibeh

So in love, drop knees Six feet distance between us Kiss the ground, she walks
-Jerri Allyn

like a sound orchard. I plant myself in slow time. how long is this now?
-anonymous

Wake up in the QUARANTINE Way of life has changed Poor man’s crying
-anonymous

Seniors are lonely Nobody visits them now None by their bedside
-Ash Ashkum

Hiding in my home Enjoying every moment Getting my shit done
-Kali Baker

Covid Dash One Nine Somebody Call Nine One One Send the S-O-S
-Grace Barnes

I am bored at home Hope my family are fine In this strange setting
-Maria Bartolucci

Captive of my yard My sheltered lungs inhale The mockingbird’s call
-Maija Beeton

end results, nope! you flat flat that line Mr or im gonna blow!
-David Bell

contemplating these quasi-human forms I seek promise in my heart
- Catherine Benamou

dandelion tea – the bitter taste of this spring behind the window
-Mirela Brăilean

Through this passing mess Masked soldiers shield us from death They will heal our world.
-J.C / G.S / Y.C / R.K

祖父母（そふぼ）時を経て（ときをへて）孤独な祖父母（こどくなそふぼ）楽しくない（たのしくない）
-Carter Campos

Social distancing- Keep away from each other! (He sleeps on the couch.)
-Jane Cartier

There are people I crave Imagine them as memories Why aren’t fairies real?
-Marion Chester

Blue sky filled with clouds Birds unafraid and alone Fly where I can not -Peter Choi
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART J

I miss hugging mom
She sews masks for caregivers Praying for them all

-Jaime Davis

Paycheck to no check March sadness let’s save Wall Street
Butcher’s Block tally

-Michael Damora

Google classroom sucks Working from home while trying To herd the stubborn teen

-Ann Dentel

じこかくり コロナウイルスで 手を洗う（てをあらう

-Neil Dewan

Keep 6 feet distance Or get buried 6 feet under your choice Covidiots

-D.L.

If it raids my house
I know we will make it through If we just hold on

-Autumn Dolan

Angry, afraid, yet flickers nesting in our tree remind me—it’s spring.

-Diane Englert

Crinkled purple gloves Discarded on the sidewalk
Who will clean it up?

-Sara Fenton

Most memorable
Senior year with no end. Why?
No graduation

-Lilly Finn

To make an impact
My probe to how are you? “Surviving” has new drift.

-Rachel Finkelstein

Reading news often Taking long walks out of doors Missing family

-LA Times (Jessica Gelt)

Lol this thundercat Taking me somewhere else I I really needed

-@haiqubot
(bot written by Daniel Howe)

What day is today?
A life measured in Zoom calls.
Thank god for Netflix.

-Elizabeth Hamilton

Fear spreading faster.
So many people dying.
What new world is this?

-Sharon Hawkins

Six feet we are told Quite a strange sight to behold Life worth more than gold

-David Holtzman

I sneeze while walking Passerby startled from thirty Guilty of allergies.

-Maryam Hosseinzadah

the poet forgets the story of the more in bloom, in wilt, we

-Iris Yirei Hu

My walls are shattered Infection takes my wellness
To ravage myself

-Noah Humphrey
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART J

“Peering through the door Solitude crept in slowly Loneliness kills me”
-Anna Imperial

Summer has collapsed
And my breakthrough has relapsed As this April goes
-Yoichen Khuman

Me, Myself, and I
The nothingness consumes me
I feel imprisoned
-J.J / S.C / D.Y

there is so much time now the grind has lost its bite what is time now for
-Andrew J. Kluth

Sweet air, longing is not enough to describe what I feel for you now.
-Sarah James

chaos, scream, cry, stop people everywhere go window with a view
-Launa Nacion Kirkey

What was freedom like?
A hug, a pat, and kisses
Now so long ago.
-Noël Johnston

Changing a Venus shaver blade— the last cartridge!
Time to go feral
-Dana Krugle & Cynthia Manick

Quiet and still Social distancing my life People shutting down
-Scott Joines

Through the vacant streets
An orchestra of COVID Plays long hollow sounds
-Sarah Little

Sitting in my room
Waiting for it to subside Desperation builds
-Kaitlyn Kam

Kick back and chill
No need for a cooler
All you need is willpower
-William Bruce Lomitola

Do you smile beneath Masks that repel and retain Breath and lonely depth
-Charly Kemp

some ways are not done
forsythia blooms, birds nest
flies die on the sill
-Daniel Mack

Stay safe and alive Million different emotions Quarantine’s lonely
-Mattie Kemp

Sherbet skies are here
Sad quarantine window views Joyous season waste
-Kurt Marsteller

Solitary walks.
All The passersby are mute -
Yet the birds still sing.
-Eddie Key

Her name is Cora
She is seven years old
She will remember
-Molly Smith Metzler
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART J

Going mad right now Crazier and Crazier
When will it ever end

-Andrew Millbrook

Falling off a cliff
My choice. It created an abyss Walking off a cliff

-Isabella Millman

COVID so minute
Power to destroy the world Must fight direful plague

-Keiko Miya

Schoolchildren rejoice!
We won’t have active shooters when kids are at home!

-Ingrid Moon

Embrace the stillness Listening to your soft voice Through the silent days

-Marissa Moran

Home has become jail
We have no motivation
But, we’ll soon be free

-Natalie Murray

febrile dialogue a slight tickle in the throat DayQuil overdose

-Seth N.

meeting by chance, we laugh in our masks at six feet only our eyes touch

-Denise Paley

部屋で孤独 （へやでこどく） 快適な檻 （かいてきなおり） 私のみ （わたしきのみ）

-Minami Roberts

We painted till dawn Netflix keeping me happy Along with my cake.

-A.Q / M.L / P.B

I LOVE BEING HOME
THERE’S PEACE AND BEAUTY ‘ROUND ME LOVE IS RESTING HERE

-Karen Root

Don’t get social yet
The virus you shall not get observe and protect

-Noah Rostan

vodka, tequila whiskey, wine, beer, and absinthe survival in place

-robyko (aka robert and emiko)

Mask discoveries:
You can still detect a smile Breath fogs your glasses

-Teresa Ruano

Stuck in a dark cave I’m trapped by isolation
I can’t see the light

-O.S / F.R / E.J

einen kaffee lang in der sonne stehen; licht ins dunkel bringen

-Annika Carmen Schmidt

Seniors shelter
Worry for distant loved ones Want them to be safe

-Dian De Sha

Life in a snow globe—
We the falling particles,
The shaker unseen.

-Stuart Shea
Social Distance, Haiku, and You
PART J

Engulfed by humans,
They leave me without a choice,
Now let me rejoice.

-Haiku by Gaurangana Solanki

tending home with love
as if guests arriving soon -
but just birds and blooms

-Haiku by Lorraine Tom

Hamburger yummy
I really want a hamburger
I also want french fries

-Haiku by Teagan Spiak

One silver lining
For fortunate folks like me:
Zoom, chat, talk, laugh, see.

-Haiku by Sylvia Tomasch

I love gymnastics
And I miss it and my friends Riding my bike a lot

-Haiku by Arden Spiak

Staying here at home
I find photos of my boys Now wonderful dads

-Haiku by Jeannie Toshima

Have you sewn your mask
Just before religious task?
On Easter? On Imbolc!

-Haiku by Stephane

セミ鳴けば （せみなけば） 好きなスポーツ （すきなスポーツ） できるかな

-Haiku by Gregory Seiji Toyoshima

Doctors and Nurses
exhaust their powers for us and mad renegades

-Haiku by Danah Stimpson

No more zumba class - so last night I shut my door cha-cha’ed my heart out

-Haiku by Amy Uyematsu

Some inhale waiting Others exhale conclusion Hope holds between breaths

-Haiku by Trevor Stutzman

Red poppy blooming Background is an empty road
No one can see you

-Haiku by Nancy Uyemura stay 6 feet away love will let you feel a hug disguised as a wave

-Haiku by Karen T.

せきしたら （とびちるね） コロナウィルス 飛び散ると （とびちるね）

-Haiku by Sachi Valiente

the virus is like a ravenous death machine grinding away families

-Haiku by Alexandria Tanner

Stand six feet apart or lay six feet underground Just breathe in and out.

-Haiku by Lauren Villafane

Global pandemic
Many people are scared
Yet we still go out.

-Haiku by J.W / A.M / E.D
Social Distance, Haiku, and You

PART J

The birds, do they know the panicked state we’re all in The surface is clean.

-Grace Wall

The spring blooms soon died since she couldn’t water them from the hospital.

-Maggie Wang

some ways are not done
forsythia blooms, birds, nest
flies die on the sill

-Daniel Mack Warwick

New reality
Feeling like my heart will break
I miss holding you

-Amy Weitman

Essential workers
Our expendable heroes Till magic ends this

-Kim White

Where are you, Covid-19?
What do you feel about us human?
Take a break and relax!

-Margaret Wu